

Analytics Manager

Location: Gurgaon, Haryana, India

Type: Full Time Min. Experience: 4-6 yrs

Job description:

- Understand the business problems of the healthcare industry and closely work with clients and top management
- Lead data science projects end to end - starting with gathering requirements, problem formulation, design, execution and finally generating recommendations
- Lead analysts working on large datasets using various database management tools e.g. R, SQL, python, Excel
- Work with complex data sets and derive strategic business recommendations which will drive critical business decisions for the clients
- Develop advanced statistical models using various analytical techniques such as linear regression, predictive modeling, logistic regression, time series analysis, forecasting, cluster analysis
- Lead creation of KPI reports and impactful dashboards that provide a quick snapshot of business trends to the clients using various visualization tools
- Produce impressive PowerPoint slides for client presentations that convey the data and ideas effectively
- Work with a multitude of analytics and visualization tools such as Highcharts, Qlik, Tableau etc. based on the client's business needs
- Mentor analysts and help advance their skills

Prerequisites

- 4-6 yrs of experience in data science/ business analysis
- Experienced at using SQL, R, python, BI tools (Qlik, Tableau etc.)
- Proficient in quantitative analysis, data mining, statistical techniques such as regression, cluster analysis, forecasting etc.
- Skilled in using Excel, Powerpoint
- Ability to work in a fast-paced startup environment, lead a team of analysts to deliver high quality work under tight timelines

- Motivation to continuously advance analytics skills of self as well as team
- Strong business acumen and ability to solve complex problems in a structured manner; Experience with healthcare is preferred
- Strong communication skills to effectively interact with internal and client teams
- Undergraduate degree from a top-tier school in Engineering/Math/Science and an MBA (preferred)

Perks

- More responsibility = more opportunities
- Try on different hats, work independently
- Feel valued and be recognized
- Challenge yourself every day. Say bye to boredom..